

Visit to the Blessed Sacrament on Wednesday

“Her conversation has no bitterness or her company any tediousness.” (Wis. 85, 16). Friends on Earth find such pleasure in being together, that they spent entire days in each other's company! With Jesus in the most Holy Sacrament, those who love Him not, get weary. After her death, St. Teresa, who was already in heaven, said to would nun: “Those who are in heaven and those who are on Earth should be one and the same in security and in love; we enjoying and you suffering; and that which we do in heaven with the Divine Essence you should do on Earth with the most Blessed Sacrament.” Behold, then, our Paradise on earth – the most Blessed Sacrament.

Oh Immaculate Lamb, sacrificed for us upon the cross, remember that I am one of those souls, which Thou redeemed by so many sufferings and by Thy death. Grant that Thou may be mine, and that I may never lose Thee, since Thou has given Thyself to me, and gives Thyself every day, sacrificing Thyself for my love on the altar, and grant that I may be all Thine. I give myself to Thee without reserve, that Thou may dispose of me as Thou pleases. I give Thee my will; change with the sweet bonds of Thy love, that it may forever be displayed of Thy most holy will. I wish no longer to live for the satisfaction of my desires, but only to please Thee; grant me the grace never to have any other thought than to please Thee; any other desire than that which Thou desires. I love Thee, O my dear Savior, with my whole heart; I love Thee because Thou desires that I should love Thee; I love Thee because Thou indeed art worthy of my love. I grieve that I love Thee not as Thou deserves. I desire to die for Thy love; accept, O Lord, my desire, and to give me Thy love. Amen.
